

BILINGUAL EDITION

Selling Your Home in Greater Montréal

Your 7-step game plan – from the right price to closing

ÉDITION 2026

AVIS IMPORTANT

This book is educational content. It is not personalized legal, tax, financial or mortgage advice. Amounts and rules cited are indicative for the 2026 edition and must be validated at the time of your project. Book a free consultation with Émilie Cauvier.

© 2026 Émilie Cauvier · Tous droits réservés · emiliecauvier.com

Reproduction interdite sans autorisation. Édition 2026.

Table des matières

01	Steps 1-2: the right price and preparation	5
02	Steps 3-4: marketing and showings	8
03	Steps 5-6: offers and negotiation	11
04	Step 7: from acceptance to closing	14
05	Plan d'action	17
06	Ressources & lexique	19

01

BILINGUAL EDITION

Steps 1-2: the right price and preparation

Start on solid ground: fair price and a market-ready home.

Steps 1-2: the right price and preparation

Start on solid ground: fair price and a market-ready home.

Step 1 — Set the right price

The list price is the most strategic decision. Too high and the home stalls, goes stale and ultimately sells for less; too low and you leave money on the table. Price from a comparative market analysis (recent comparable sales), not a wish.

Step 2 — Prepare the property

- Declutter, deep-clean, depersonalize.
- Minor repairs that catch the eye.
- Light home staging to showcase the spaces.

LE CONSEIL D'ÉMILIE

An overpriced home almost always sells for less in the end: it becomes 'the one that lingers.' The right price on day one creates the interest that drives offers up.

MES NOTES

Mes notes — Steps 1-2: the right price and preparation

QUESTIONS POUR LANCER MA RÉFLEXION :

- What do the comparables say about a realistic price?
- What preparation can I do before listing?

02

BILINGUAL EDITION

Steps 3-4: marketing and showings

Expose the property to the most qualified buyers.

Steps 3-4: marketing and showings

Expose the property to the most qualified buyers.

- Professional photos, video, a polished description.
- Broad distribution (Centris, social media, broker network).
- Make showings easy: availability, constant tidiness, owners away.

The first weeks matter most: that is when interest peaks. A well-prepared, well-priced home often gets its best offers early. Today the first visit happens on a screen, so quality photos are the highest-return investment of the whole sale.

LE CONSEIL D'ÉMILIE

Never skimp on photos. A well-prepared home that is poorly photographed sells for less than it should.

MES NOTES

Mes notes — Steps 3-4: marketing and showings

QUESTIONS POUR LANCER MA RÉFLEXION :

- Is my home ready for professional photos?
- Am I flexible for showings?

03

BILINGUAL EDITION

Steps 5-6: offers and negotiation

Turn interest into the best accepted offer.

Steps 5-6: offers and negotiation

Turn interest into the best accepted offer.

Evaluate each offer as a whole: price, conditions (inspection, financing), dates, and the strength of the buyer's financing. The highest offer is not always the best if its conditions are shaky.

- Analyze price AND certainty.
- Negotiate or counter while keeping your objective in mind.
- In multiple offers, a fair, transparent process maximizes the result.

LE CONSEIL D'ÉMILIE

Do not be dazzled by the number alone. A slightly lower but near-certain, well-financed offer can be worth more than a high, fragile one.

MES NOTES

Mes notes — Steps 5-6: offers and negotiation

QUESTIONS POUR LANCER MA RÉFLEXION :

- Which matters most to me: price, dates, certainty?
- Which offer best balances price and certainty?

04

BILINGUAL EDITION

Step 7: from acceptance to closing

Secure the sale through to signing.

Step 7: from acceptance to closing

Secure the sale through to signing.

An accepted offer is not a closed sale: conditions remain (inspection, buyer's financing, document review). Good follow-through keeps the deal from derailing in this sensitive window.

- Facilitate the inspection and access to documents.
- Provide the notary with required documents (certificate of location, seller's declaration).
- Prepare your own move and key handover.

Remember: in Québec the seller's declaration and the legal warranty matter – disclose known defects honestly to reduce the risk of post-sale disputes.

LE CONSEIL D'ÉMILIE

Stay collaborative while conditions are being met: a well-supported transaction reaches the finish line. That is where a broker's experience makes the difference.

MES NOTES

Mes notes — Step 7: from acceptance to closing

QUESTIONS POUR LANCER MA RÉFLEXION :

- Have I prepared my documents (certificate of location, seller's declaration)?
- Is my moving and key-handover plan ready?

05

PASSER À L'ACTION

Plan d'action

Plan d'action

Vos prochains pas, concrètement.

Cette semaine

- 0 Get a comparative market analysis to set the right price.
- 0 Begin decluttering and minor repairs.

D'ici 30 jours

- 0 Arrange professional photos and marketing.
- 0 Organize flexible, well-prepared showings.

Ensuite

- 0 Review offers with Émilie and secure the transaction to the notary.

06

POUR ALLER PLUS LOIN

Ressources & lexique

Ressources & lexique

Les repères essentiels à garder sous la main.

- Comparative market analysis: recent comparable sales used to price the home.
- Home staging: presenting the home to sell faster and for more.
- Seller's declaration: form disclosing what the seller knows about the property.
- Legal warranty of quality: protects the buyer against hidden defects.
- Certificate of location: surveyor's document, often required to close.

ÉVALUATION

Testez vos acquis

Dix questions pour ancrer l'essentiel de ce guide. Répondez, puis vérifiez avec le corrigé commenté.

1. The most strategic selling decision is:

- A) The sign color
- B) The list price
- C) The moving date
- D) The notary's name

2. An overpriced home usually:

- A) Sells for more
- B) Sells for less in the end
- C) Sells faster
- D) Has no impact

3. The price should be set from:

- A) A wish
- B) A comparative market analysis
- C) The original purchase price
- D) Neighbours' opinions

4. The most important weeks are:

- A) The last ones
- B) The first ones, when interest peaks
- C) None
- D) Winter only

5. An offer should be evaluated:

- A) On price alone
- B) As a whole (price, conditions, dates, financing)
- C) At random
- D) On the signature only

6. An accepted offer is:

- A) A closed sale
- B) Still subject to conditions being met
- C) Worthless
- D) Final immediately

7. The highest-return investment in a sale is:

- A) A new kitchen
- B) Professional photos
- C) A gold sign
- D) Nothing

8. To reduce post-sale disputes, the seller should:

- A) Hide defects
- B) Disclose known defects honestly (seller's declaration)
- C) Say nothing
- D) Avoid the notary

CORRIGÉ COMMENTÉ

1. B – The right price creates interest (chapter 1).
2. B – It becomes 'the one that lingers' (chapter 1).
3. B – Comparables give value (chapter 1).
4. B – Interest peaks at launch (chapter 2).
5. B – Highest is not always best (chapter 3).
6. B – Inspection, financing, documents remain (chapter 4).
7. B – The first visit is on a screen (chapter 2).
8. B – Transparency protects the seller (chapter 4).

So what now? Let's talk about YOUR project.

You have the roadmap. The next step is to apply it to your situation. Book a free consultation, with no obligation.

Émilie Cuvier — Residential real estate broker

Tél. (514) 774-9818 · emilie@equipecauvier.com

6640, avenue de l'Esplanade, Montréal (QC) H2V 4L5 · emiliecauvier.com

DANS LA MÊME COLLECTION

- Buying Your First Home in Québec
- Vendre au meilleur prix – le plan de match en 7 étapes
- Home staging express
- La déclaration du vendeur : éviter les vices cachés